MY LEARNING STYLE IS AFFECTING MY CAREER

Presented by Harvey McChesney, III, CPIM

River Club in Bradenton

Thursday, February 16th 6:00 PM

My unique Learning Style affects how, what, and how much I learn. It also effects how I succeed with my boss, coach those who work for me for best performance, and successfully present ideas to others.

I can imagine the potential frustration, or even difficulty, for two people working together when one is detail oriented while the other needs just the high points. I can relate to a situation where one person is significantly attuned to people's feelings and emotions while the other is "all business" without concern for people issues. I understand the difficulty of an interaction between a highly creative thinker who dreams up all sorts of possibilities but implements none and someone who is a take charge, just do something sort of person.

In this very interactive session of self discovery, I will learn:

- about my natural preferences to recognize and mentally process new information
- what Learning Styles are and what mine might be
- how my learning style may impact my job situation
- ways I can use my learning style to career advantage

CPIM designees will earn 1 point towards certification maintenance.

Registration starts at 5:30 PM at the River Club in Bradenton.

Reservations must be made by Tuesday, February 14th. Cost is $20 for members and $25 for non-members. To reserve your spot, contact Tina Jensen at reservations@apicsgulf.org or (941) 746-2101. Cancellations must be received by noon Wednesday, February 15th. Please note that no shows must be billed.

Directions to River Club can be found on Page 8.

About the Presenter: Harvey McChesney, III, CPIM is president of McChesney Associates. Officer's Corner

By Lee Stephens, VP Membership

In today's job market with its ever changing demands and uncertainties we must always strive to set ourselves apart from the rest of the pack, when we are looking for employment we always try to put our best foot forward, if we are trying for that promotion we try to show we are the best qualified and best suited for that position and if we want to maintain and increase our knowledge we educate ourselves. APICS has been around since 1957, individuals and companies alike have relied on APICS for its training, internationally recognized certifications, comprehensive resources, and a worldwide network of accomplished industry professionals and leaders.

Here is a partial excerpt from the APICS website:

MEMBERSHIP

The APICS community is composed of nearly 60,000 individuals from 20,000 companies worldwide-across all segments of manufacturing, service, retail, and wholesale industries. APICS members hold titles from production and inventory manager and director of global supply chain to vice president of operations and chief financial officer.

APICS is built around the theory that your career is not a fixed entity, but a living, growing process that needs to be fed with new skills, nurtured with challenge, and enhanced with learning.

Join APICS today to profit from our vast educational offerings as well as the knowledge and experiences of thousands of other operations management professionals worldwide. Also, read APICS Connection for the latest membership benefit news and information.

Here is a quick overview of other valuable benefits of becoming a member of APICS.

Unemployed Member Benefit Program: To assist members who become unemployed, APICS offers an Unemployed Member Benefit Extension Program. This program, facilitated through chapters, enables members to extend their membership while searching for employment. Thus, members affected by unemployment can take full advantage of their contacts and member benefits to help secure a new position. Members who are unemployed and actively seeking work within the APICS business sector may extend their membership for a six-month period free of charge during the renewal cycle. Members apply for the extension through their local chapter, which approves the request and waives chapter dues.

Full Day Workshop
May 10, 2006
Rosedale Country Club
Utilizing MRP in a LEAN Environment
Michael D. Ford, CFPIM, CQA, CRE

MRP is often referred to as "The Great Enabler" because it allows for large lot sizes, poor yields, and long lead times by planning for those allowances. While it is true that an MRP software system does not encourage LEAN concepts, the reality is that we can effectively implement LEAN initiatives in such a way as to create a successful marriage of the two techniques. In this fashion, MRP retains its role as a planning tool while LEAN provides for the execution on the shop floor.

This highly interactive workshop will engage participants in the following discussion and exercises:

- Appropriate application of the lot sizing and yield calculations
- Data validation for make and buy parts
- Capacity considerations
- Flattening Bills of Material
- Repetitive Manufacturing
- Backflushing
- Engineering Change Orders
- Master Scheduling interaction

This program is appropriate for environments using MRP systems and aspiring to implement LEAN initiatives. It is for system users, administrators and anyone who provides data input to the system OR uses the data output: planning, purchasing, stockroom, shipping/receiving, engineering, cost accounting, production, etc. This will be especially helpful to top management representatives who are responsible for project management, system implementation and training programs.

Michael D. Ford, CFPIM, CQA, CRE has twenty years experience in retail, distribution, manufacturing and training. He is Principal of TQM Works Consulting, providing innovative solutions based on a unique combination of technical expertise and soft skill sets. Ford is a graduate of SUNY Buffalo, earning a BSIE, and continues to practice APICS' "lifelong learning for lifetime success" via professional development activities. He has presented at over 70 events to local, regional and international audiences throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Military Member Extension Program: While you serve the armed forces, APICS is here to serve you. We are proud to extend benefits and services to individuals who have answered the call for active duty. APICS members who have been summoned to military duty may request an extension of benefits coverage by completing the Reservists Extension Form. Under this program, reservists have the following two options:

Option 1—If your membership expires while on duty. When you are released from active duty, you can use the reservist form to renew or reinstate your membership for 6 months.

Option 2—If your membership renewal notice is delivered while on active duty you can use the reservist form to request a complimentary 6-month membership extension.

All of this information is listed at the society's web page as well; the web site address is www.apics.org

The Gulf Coast Chapter of APICS welcomes anyone that is either interested in becoming or just curious about the benefits of becoming a member of this chapter to give us a call or drop us an email and even though it is still under construction please visit our website at www.apicsgulf.org it has a lot of useful information there as well.
